

ANNUAL PUBLIC LECTURE

Shaping our Knowledge of Chronic Disease

Join us for an informative talk to learn about cutting-edge research on the prevention, treatment and management of chronic illnesses.

When: Tuesday, March 10, 2020 | 6pm-7:30pm (doors at 5:30pm)
Where: St. Paul's Hospital | Cullen Family Lecture Theatre
1081 Burrard Street, Vancouver
RSVP: CelebrateResearch2020.eventbrite.com
Light refreshments will be provided

Host and moderator

Dr. Darryl Knight

is President of the Providence Health Care Research Institute. His research career has focused on chronic lung diseases, such as asthma, pulmonary fibrosis and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease.

Chronic pediatric vasculitis: Improving outcomes for childhood rheumatic diseases

Dr. Kelly Brown

Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, UBC
BC Children's Hospital Research Institute

From microbes to movement, a systems approach to brain health

Dr. Silke Cresswell

Assistant Professor of Neurology, UBC
Vancouver Coastal Health Research Institute

Early life exposures that influence adult chronic disease

Dr. Kelly McNagy

Professor of Medical Genetics, UBC
Providence Health Care Research Institute

